In this talk, we will present a Special section of the journal Inner Asia (25; 2023), entitled "The Voices of Russia's Minorities on the Invasion of Ukraine". This special section aims to provide a platform for the voices of Russia's ethnic minority anti-war activists. It looks at how the full scale invasion into Ukraine has affected ethnic minority populations of the Russian Federation and places their anti-war activism in the context of online and offline social movements.

Participants:

Kristina Jonutytė is an Associate Professor at Vilnius University (Lithuania). She is a social anthropologist currently undertaking research on Buryat racialisation and belonging in the context of the war in Ukraine, with a particular focus on Buryat outmigration to Mongolia. Talk: Introduction

Abubakar Yangulbaev is an Independent Human Rights Lawyer and Researcher from Grozny, Russia (Chechen Republic). Title of the talk: "Russia's Invasions: From Chechnya to Ukraine"
